

In Depth Reading List on the Social, Cultural, Political and Military Events and Institutions that shaped the Seminole Negro Indian Scouts and the world they inhabited

Provided by Katarina "Kato" Wittich

Kato has been conducting research on the Seminole Negro Indian Scouts for over twenty years. She has published multiple Black Seminole history articles online on various websites and is frequently cited as a resource by other researchers. She presented a paper on the History of the Scouts at Tuskegee University in 200. She is currently writing a fictional television series based on the Seminole Negro Indian Scouts. Ms. Wittich is a member of the Directors Guild of America and holds a BA from Yale University and an MFA in Film and Television from New York University

This reading list goes beyond publications about the Scouts to include articles and books about topics including African American History and Culture; Native American tribes encountered by the Scouts; Soldiers, Scouts, and the Military; Mexicans and Tejanos, and Law and Race in West.
